911 House Numbering Project

In an emergency situation can emergency medical services or law enforcement quickly locate each home in your community? If not, please consider purchasing a sign/post that displays each home address in four-inch reflective numbers. Today, as a result of new enhanced 911 telephone features, a dispatcher can identify the specific street address and caller from a 911 call even if no one is able to provide that information. Unfortunately, valuable minutes may be lost in response time by police, fire and ambulance, because of the difficulty of finding improperly or non-existent numbering at the victim's residence.

The DOWNEAST TRIAD is pleased to announce a program that arranges to have as many homes numbered as possible. TRIAD is a volunteer, non-profit senior organization whose primary mission is the safety of seniors. These signs, that meet the 911 standards, are being manufactured at low cost by inmates at the Penobscot County Jail. You may choose to purchase just the reflective numbers (on a strong aluminum backer) to be applied in a highly visible location at the end of the driveway, or choose to additionally purchase the steel stake that is ready for installation.

What better way to serve the people of your community than this critical life saving home identification? In the case of those with disabilities or some other reason, who would find difficulty in installing the sign, perhaps a firefighter, public safety official, or TRIAD member would be willing to assist.
